Backyard Bees. A guide for the beginner beekeeper by Doug Purdie

Urban beekeeping pioneer and self-described 'beevangelist' Doug Purdie, has created a beautifully written and stunningly photographed guide to keeping bees in your backyard. Whether you inhabit an office, a terrace, an apartment or have children pattering around, Backyard Bees will have you building a hive, harvesting your own golden honey, and cooking something delicious with it in no time! There's no doubt about it - bees are the new black!

Doug Purdie started beekeeping a few years ago when he read about the worldwide bee decline and decided to do his bit. He is now president of the NSW Amateur Beekeepers Association.

Doug lives in East Sydney where his rooftop balcony houses a family of bees working hard to produce honey.
