Introducing Mrs Australia Classic 2016, Scotland Island's Cheryl Mae Wagner.

During the past 12mths Cheryl, along with her daughter Katie Mae, has been involved in a campaign to raise awareness of Ovarian Cancer through The Teal Wings of Hope Charity and the Miss, Mrs, Ms Australia Quest (MAQuest).

The pair recently competing in the National Finals in Newcastle, with Cheryl taking the title "Mrs Classic Australia", and Katie the "Mrs Universe Australia" title. Now the mother-daughter team is preparing to travel to South Africa in November as Australian Ambassadors, competing in the International Finals with the Hope Foundation.

"This has been an amazing journey for the past 12 months, learning so much and helping raise the awareness of ovarian cancer," Cheryl said.

"The disease is known as the silent killer, as the symptoms are often not recognised and usually, diagnosed is not made until the advanced stages, making recovery very difficult."

In her role as Mrs Classic Australia, Cheryl will continue to raise awareness for the fight against ovarian cancer through the Teal the Beat Campaign and Teal Wings of Hope Charity. She is planning a number of awareness events in coming months, including a High Tea in late July and a Black Tie Ball in late October, with both events being hosted at The Waterfront Café, with the wonderful support of Mary and Joe Romeo. Dates and times will be posted soon.

Cheryl would like to thank, The Waterfront Café, PMC Hill Real Estate, Club Sail, Church Point Ferry Service, Ian Major, Nettie Lodge and Susan Duncan for their support.
