Freedom Ride to Where?
Fifty years ago 29 Sydney University students, led by Charlie Perkins, undertook to investigate and confront racial discrimination in western NSW towns. The findings are shown in Rachael Perkins' film, Freedom Ride.

In 2015, Sydney University commemorated this event – with 10 original Freedom Riders, 29 students, staff, media and musicians. What did we find? What had changed? What had got worse?

All welcome. Over the years there were many great events run by The Indigenous Interests Group and this is the first of a number of events to be on in 2015. Bring a snack to share and come and join us.
