Remembering Avalon. Growing up in the 1940s & 50s

Edited by Jan Roberts

This is a book of the memories of 15 people who grew up in Avalon in the 1940s and 1950s, including the editor. It was written so the children and grandchildren of the 15 writers would understand what post-war Avalon was like.

Wonderful photographs and art work are also included.

Dr Jan Roberts is a historian, author and small publisher who lives at Avalon. In 1996 she set up Ruskin Rowe Press to publish occasional limited edition, high quality books on art, history and architecture, mostly with a Pittwater focus. Maybanke Anderson's Story of Pittwater 1770 to 1920 was the first and it quickly became a collector's item and Remembering Avalon is her seventh published book.
