

APPLICATIONS NOW OPEN FOR 2017

The Pittwater Artists Trail is a collective of practicing artists on the Northern Beaches. Within this group we thrive as individual artists supporting each other, presenting our work collectively to the public and striving to always display a high level of expertise and professionalism within our chosen media.

Studios on the trail are open to the public over two weekends throughout the year and our artists hold a curated group exhibition each winter.

We are interested to hear from Scotland Island artists and makers who would like to apply to be part of the trail in 2017. This would involve exhibiting within a suitable, existing mainland studio for the two open weekends as a 'guest artist'.

Applications close first week October 2016.
