Wastewater Infrastructure Meeting December 22, 2015

Present: Steve Wallace, PS Solutions; Bill Gye, Marie Minslow, Cass Gye, Judy Readman

Following SIRA's meeting with Minister Niall Blair (notes attached), SIRA sourced a design and consulting engineer specialising in water and wastewater infrastructure.

A meeting was arranged for 21 December. Following a comprehensive drive around the Island, the consultant was positive about the possibility of Scotland Island being linked to the mains sewerage system.

We have provided him with copies of maps SIRA has on file, the Water and Wastewater Study and the Hydraulic Analysis prepared in relation to water flow.

Further discussions will be held with a private utility that has previously obtained government licences to deliver water and wastewater services to greenfield and urban infill communities before SIRA returns to Minister Blair with an alternative proposal to the very expensive one forthcoming from Sydney Water.
