Subject: Merger Savings Fund enquiry

Hello Colin,

Just getting back to your enquiry about the merger savings fund and whether there were any funds available for Scotland Island assets.

I can advise that the merger savings fund is fully committed to existing operational and capital items. Scotland Island assets are included within the Council's Asset Management Plans which are currently being prepared by our asset managers. These plans will inform the Council's future capex program and I understand they will going to Council in the next few months.

Kind regards
